BBC Monitoring Service
Caversham Park
Reading, Berks., England

Dear Kit:

I was delighted to hear of your forthcoming visit to FBIS field stations and Washington. I believe that such a visit will have a most beneficial affect on the selection of our editors for BBC interests. It will also call attention to the close relationship of our two services.

I am planning a little informal social gathering in your honor for Saturday evening October 3. I think you will find quite a few of your old acquaintances of FBIS there and, in fact, I am sure many more scattered around the world. All have been alerted to your coming and are eagerly awaiting your arrival.

Please give my warmest personal regards to Mr. Campbell and to my other friends at Caversham Park.

Sincerely,

STAT
